RENTS ACTION IS DEFERRED

House Committee Wants Until April 16 To Study Situation

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 2—Locked in a wrangle over a proposed 10 per cent general rent increase, the house banking committee voted 17 to 1 today to postpone all action on rent and housing legislation until April 16.

Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich.) said the committee felt they should have "a chance to think over" the hot issue of a rent rise.

The group voted tentatively 9 to 6 yesterday to include a 10 per cent hike in rents in a bill extending rent controls to next March 31.

To Study Situation
But when the committee met again today, it approved a motion by Rep. Kunkel (R-Pa.) to postpone final action.

The senate banking committee earlier this week unanimously rejected a proposal to allow a general 10 per cent rental increase.

As the house committee session broke up, Wolcott told reporters: "The members want to think this thing over during the Easter recess."

This committee does not want to make any undue mistakes. We want to mull it over and see if we can't come to unanimous committee action."

President Truman prodded congress yesterday to continue "effective" rent and eviction control until one year from June 30, when present legislation expires.

As the committee session broke up, Wolcott told reporters: "The members want to think this thing over during the Easter recess."

Mr. Truman's message said: "He said he had 'no objection' to transferring the rent controls from the office of temporary controls to the housing expediter, Frank R. Creedon, as is provided in one bill before the senate."

He added he still regards the housing situation as acute despite the rapid upswing in residential construction during 1946."

Grants Municipal Workers Wage Boosts

Move Brings Higher Fund Appropriation

$320,388 Total For Year Is $45,206 More Than '46 Expenses

Appropriation of $320,388.16 for the operation of the city in 1947 was completed by council at city hall Tuesday night, including pay increases for non-elective employees totaling approximately $26,315.

Council, in making its financial plans for the year, granted raises of approximately 6.5 per cent to workers in the safety, health, service and water departments.

A new salary and wage ordinance was passed, effective Tuesday.

The appropriation, which is $45,206.46 larger than 1946's due to more funds allotted the city by the county, grants an increase of $13.35 a month to each salaried employee of the city and seven cents and hour to wage earners.

Other Funds Unchanged
Because of the pay raise most of the increases in allocations by the city were directed into departmental funds for payment of salaries and wages and little actual increase in other funds was seen.

The police and fire department increases alone amount to $5,995.40. The police department appropriation is $4,414.05 more than last year and the fire department was increased $1,521.65.

The differential in the two departments is explained by the addition of three traffic policemen to the force as a result of the installation of parking meters here.

Service department employee raises will increase operating costs $13,080 over last year. Water department increases will cost $6,825.75.

Council set aside $6,600 in the sidewalks repair fund, $4,000 more than last year, to improve walks throughout the city. Property owners will foot the bill, but in necessary cases the city will make the repairs and bill the owners.

The bond retirement fund was increased to $33,461 this year as compared to $25,865.50 last year. Of that $30,000 is retirement money and $3,461 interest.

The complete breakdown on the '47 appropriation measure follows:

General Administration
Total $12,531.81, including: Council $117.75, clerk $500, mayor $2900, auditor $2900, treasurer $650, solicitor $2600, legal advertising $400, mayor's court $150, civil service commission $376.81, damages, court costs $600, miscellaneous $280.

Total $55,679.60, including: General administration $788.50, fire $1,521.65.

MAXIMOS KEPT AS PREMIER BY NEW KING

Names Coalition Cabinet To Carry On Following Brother's Death

(By Associated Press)
ATHENS, April 2—King Paul, the new monarch of Greece, designated Premier Demetrios Maximos and a seven-party coalition cabinet to carry on as the government of this strife-torn land today as one of his first acts after ascending a throne vacated by the death of his brother.

Maximos, who was appointed to head the cabinet by the late King George II last Jan. 24, submitted his resignation immediately after Paul took the oath of office last night, but the new king refused to accept it and requested Maximos to continue in office.

Maximos, a 74-year-old financier, is a member of the Populist party.

His cabinet, which includes five former premiers, contains members of the Social Democrat, National Liberal, Reformist, Venizelist Liberal, National Unionist and Nationalist parties.

Youth, 23, Who Slew Mother, Stoical As Death Hour Nears

COLUMBUS, April 2—Apparently unmoved, Russell Eugene Koons, 23-year-old Springfield navy veteran, sat quietly in his Ohio penitentiary death row cell today, awaiting the summons to die in the electric chair tonight.

Koons was convicted of the hatchet slaying of his mother. With his life now spanned in hours, Koons played solitaire, read and received visits from the prison's Protestant chaplain, Rev. K. E. Wall.

Guards, who watched every movement of the Springfield man as the hour for execution drew nearer, said they detected no evidence of a break in Koons' composure.

He placed an order for an enormous final meal. The menu included fried chicken, mashed potatoes, chicken gravy, creamed peas, fruit salad, biscuits, butter, ice cream, pumpkin pie, lemonade, coffee and cigarettes.

This meal will be served between 6 and 6:30 p. m. In the tiny cell a few feet back of the chair in which Koons will be executed for slaying his mother in 1945, Koons will be moved from his cell in death row about 5:30 p. m.

Except for Chaplain Wall, final visits have been made, guards reported.

The condemned man's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver B. Koons of Columbus, visited him March 27, and Mrs. Koons returned March 31. On that day, also, he received two clergymen, the Rev. Vernon O. Brien, Jr., of Cincinnati and the Rev. Leonard Conklin of Springfield.

House Bill May Avert Phone Strike Monday

WASHINGTON, April 2—The house labor committee today approved 16 to 3 a bill designed to give the government power to head off or stop a telephone strike set for next Monday.

Chairman Hartley (R-NJ.) told reporters he would ask immediately for clearance to get the bill to the house floor for action. But he conceded there is no chance of enactment before the strike deadline set by the National Federation of Telephone Workers.

Hartley added that the legislation "is not merely designed to beat the deadline. It will be available at any time during the proceedings. It could be used even after the strike takes place."

The measure provides that when the President finds that a labor dispute has resulted in or threatens substantial curtailment of public utility, transportation, or communication services, he shall direct the attorney general to obtain a court order to prevent a strike.

Terms Bell "Monopolistic"
Just prior to the labor committee's action, the NPTW had asked for a congressional investigation of what it called "the monopolistic labor policy of the Bell system."

Several changes were made in the strike-injunction legislation before committee approval.

Fourteen Republicans and two Democrats voted for the bill and three Democrats against it. Six committee members were absent.

Hartley said the bill is not broad enough to cover a coal strike. Nor could it cover a railway strike because the committee specified it would not apply to any person or dispute subject to the Railway Labor act.

To meet a Democratic objection, the committee also wrote in a section providing that the attorney general can ask a court to end an injunction whenever disputing parties reach an agreement.

The congressional probe of the Bell system was proposed by J. A. Beirne, president of the NPTW, in letters to House Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana, and Senate GOP Leader White of Maine.

Chinese Communists Attack British Ship

SHANGHAI, April 2—British Captain William Lee, of LST Wanshen, was seriously injured today when his ship was bombed and machine-gunned while unloading UNRRA supplies at the Chinese Communist port of Shikhuo.

The planes were identified as belonging to the Chinese Nationalist government in reports to United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation headquarters here.

The planes, reports here said, subjected the Wanshen to three attacks in which the captain, Chief Mate William D. Haining of Vancouver, B. C., and an unidentified Chinese quartermaster were injured.

After the attacks the Wanshen put to sea and met the Wilkie, which had rushed to meet her in a response to radio calls.

Shikhuo is about 60 miles southwest of Tientsin, where American naval craft are based.

A Job Well Done

Activities of the nation's draft boards, as such, concluded Monday, although the work of winding up their tasks will continue for another year under the supervision of the Office of Selective Service Records.

The draft board member exemplified democracy. Called to render decisions which in many cases vitally affected the lives of his friends and neighbors, he had a disagreeable but necessary task to perform. Like jury duty, it was thankless work, but unlike jury duty it was a continuing job. Many a board member burned the midnight oil and spent Sunday poring over records when the manpower was acute. On the whole, the assignment was handled conscientiously and justly.

All Ohioans can agree with Col. C. W. Goble, state draft director, who said: "I can't say enough in praise of board members. Through their patriotism they performed a task which never can be compensated for in dollars and cents."

Good Politics Now

Francis Waldron, the Communist party wheelhorse who defied the House committee on un-American activities recently, has publicly challenged the committee's right to exist.

This is a reminder that the only reason the committee ever did exist was to fill the vacuum created by the New Deal's lack of interest in Communist infiltration. During the New Deal and up until recently, the committee was the only agency of the government to show persistent, active interest in subversion by Communists, Fascists, Nazis and the homegrown varieties of totalitarianism. Its rough-riding over civil liberties was condoned because the alternative was to do nothing at all about minorities with the common aim of abolishing civil liberties entirely. The executive branch of the government wasn't interested.

It is interesting now. The election returns of last November have been digested. The Truman administration has decided it is good politics to rout out the reds. The House committee on un-American activities now belongs to the Republican majority, which mustn't be given the privilege of making political capital out of the American public's determination to make things hot for homegrown Communists. Even without the committee, the United States no longer would be the pushover for Communist infiltration that it was during the New Deal.

A Start, At Least

Are drivers acquiring a belated sense of caution and responsibility? The national picture indicates they may be.

In the first two months of 1947, the traffic fatality rate has dropped 17 percent below the comparable 1946 period and 19 percent below the same months in 1941. This considerable decline could be indicative of a trend. Or it could mean that drivers are slowing down and taking better care of their cars against the day when they can trade them in for juiced-up post-war models.

The two-month fatality total stands at the appalling figure of 4,510. The nation has a long, long way to go before that total falls to a reasonable level. At any rate, a start has been made.

Dr. Emeny's New Post

Always proud of its native sons who make a mark for themselves in their chosen fields of endeavor, Salem is particularly pleased to note the high honor that has come to Dr. Brooks Emeny of Cleveland, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Emeny of this city. In an editorial commenting on his selection as president of the Foreign Policy Association, The Cleveland Plain Dealer says:

"The selection of Dr. Brooks Emeny to be president of the Foreign Policy Association was not only a deserved honor for him, but was also a tribute to the prestige attained by Cleveland's thriving Council on World Affairs, which, under Dr. Emeny's guidance, has become an outstanding agency for the development of public interest in problems of international relations. "As the new president of the leading organization devoted to the dissemination of information and analyses concerning United States foreign policy Dr. Emeny will be able to apply on a broader scale than ever before the talents and erudition that contributed so notably to the upbuilding of the council to the point where its last annual institute, Report From the World, commanded international attention. It is gratifying to members of the Council on World Affairs that Dr. Emeny's services will not be lost to them, for he will continue as president of the council and divide his time between Cleveland and the New York headquarters of the Foreign Policy Association. "Cleveland congratulates Dr. Emeny on the high honor that has come to him."

Potatoes For Tito

Yugoslavia, land of Tito and the studied slur of all things not Communist, is to receive an undetermined amount of surplus American potatoes, according to the State Department.

This brings to mind a few questions as to just what will happen to that food when it disappears behind the Iron Curtain. Will it help feed guerrillas in Greece? Will potato soup become a staple item for Yugoslav troops making menacing gestures in the direction of Turkey? Will Yugoslavia distribute the potatoes in the hungry villages with the discreet word that they are just another token of friendship from Moscow? Granted that we have potatoes to burn, are there no nations just as needy as Yugoslavia and far more favorably disposed toward us?

The State Department may have logical reasons for its policy in this matter. A few of them ought to be made public.

The Stars Say

For Thursday, April 3

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

BAD judgment, unsound reasoning and erratic impulses may continue to set back work already moving toward productive channels with far-reaching and devastating force.

Sudden developments are liable to create consternation or excitement, when calm, reasoned and balanced judgment might avert a crisis. Take time out to count the costs of bad mistakes, or impulsive action, as these have reactions on investments, outlay, peace of mind and private relations.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves involved in a critical year, in which past efforts of an ambitious nature as well as progressive plans and objectives may be set at naught by rash, hasty, ill-considered and erratic procedures, affecting fundamentally future progress, prosperity and happiness.

This in private as well as business life. Calmness in stress and storm, poise and shrewd analysis of integrating conditions might benignly save the day from calamity and error.

A child born on this day is prone to act eagerly and excitedly, with impulse and emotional conduct making matters difficult if not devastating.

Airline Fares Raised

The cab and trailer burned for two and a half hours before firemen and police were able to remove Ratliff's body.

Ever Hear of "STUFFED-UP" HORSEPOWER?

NO, we don't mean your Buick engine can have a runny nose—or adenoids. But it sure can get stuffed-up and sluggish.

It gets that way with an ordinary muffler. Because even good regular mufflers act like tight collars and choke off as much as 25% of the horsepower. That's not so with Buick mufflers. Buick engineers developed a straight-through resonance type that does its job with only 2½% loss—exactly 10 times better. And that points up just one example of the difference between ordinary service and

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

When The Baby Eats Poorly

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MANY parents think that you "spoil" a child by allowing him to do what he wants. The opposite is much more likely to be true, especially in the realm of food.

Many a youngster begins his childhood with a poor appetite and a cross disposition only because an over-anxious mother has tried all during his babyhood to force him to eat what he does not want and often does not need.

Poor eating in a baby often starts when he is given his first solid food. The taste of the food, its consistency and feeding from a spoon are all strange.

However, after two or three days most babies will take a cereal feeding and within a week or two accept it willingly, but there are some who, from the very first, seem to dislike cereal, and this dislike seems to grow on them. Any effort that the mother may make to force the baby to take the cereal only makes him more obstinate.

Preventing Difficulty

To prevent difficulty with the first solid foods the mother should remember that it may require several days and even several weeks for the baby to get familiar with the new food. There is no hurry.

The only important thing is to make sure that the baby will eventually like the cereal. Just a taste each day is enough until he becomes eager for it.

Because the baby so often rebels against taking the cereal it may be advisable to start with some other solid foods such as apple sauce or mashed banana. The infant is much more likely to enjoy these foods and later take cereal willingly. On the other hand, if he is started with cereal and dislikes it, he may rebel against fruits and every other food.

Hungry at Mealtimes

When the baby is from six to nine months old he usually is hungry at mealtimes and eats avidly of whatever is offered him. However, between twelve and fifteen months of age children frequently lose this good appetite.

At this time, the foods most commonly refused or eaten poorly are vegetables, cereals and milk. Of course, the mother realizes that the child needs these foods and he is apt to urge or try to force the baby to take them but the infant only becomes more obstinate.

The mother should bear in mind that the infant's appetite is likely to fall off from time to time. If he turns against certain foods, offer him others. If he does not want any vegetables, give him fruit twice a day.

The baby may temporarily cut down his milk intake. If this happens, extra milk can be given in milk puddings or in cereals made with milk. Dry cereals may be offered in place of cooked ones. The best rule to adopt is to let the baby's appetite take care of itself and to allow his appetite to determine the amount of food that he wants. Above all, avoid urging and force.

I have outlined some instructions regarding infants more than nine months of age who refuse to eat which I shall be glad to send to all those who desire them if they will send a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Names will not be used.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

Lately I've been getting letters from housewives saying, "My husband earns so much a week or month; can you figure out a budget for us?"

I'm not a budget expert, so I can't sit down and tell these worried women how much to pay for rent, how much for food and clothing.

Anyway, I'm not sure a budget is what they need in these times.

They must spend for rent whatever the place they happen to be living in rents for. That's obvious. A budget might tell them what they SHOULD pay for rent, but it can't tell them where to find another house or apartment. The same goes for food.

So better than a budget in these times, I think, are a few rules for the wise spending of your income. First, take out of the pay check those things that must be paid, such as rent, utilities, insurance, and debts.

Then pay strict attention to food costs. Study vitamin requirements to get the most food value out of every food dollar.

Seek Blind Couple Following Wedding

COLUMBUS, April 2 — If Miss Florence Frutchey, 29, and Charles Owens, 40, of Cincinnati, both of whom are blind, have eloped, they've managed to keep their whereabouts a well-guarded secret.

With a Seeing-Eye dog, the sightless couple left here Monday, and a search which extended last night to Pittsburgh and Indianapolis failed to locate them.

Owens' sister-in-law, Mrs. Katie Owens of Cincinnati, said Owens telephoned her from Indianapolis yesterday that he and Miss Frutchey would be married there and go to Pittsburgh to visit his sister. Mrs. Owens refused to identify the Pittsburgh relatives, insisting the couple's whereabouts was "their business."

A Pennsylvania railroad conductor reported helping a couple of their description into a taxicab at Indianapolis Monday afternoon, but no word of the couple has been received here since then.

The young woman's distraught mother, Mrs. R. C. Frutchey, said her daughter never had been away from Columbus before and that she learned only this week that the two had been carrying on a romance through Braille correspondence for about three weeks.

Nab Army Deserter Who Lived In Cave

CLEVELAND, April 2.—A bearded, 25-year-old man who said he had been living in a cave for four years was arrested in Uhrichsville, O., early today on a charge of deserting from the army, the FBI announced.

E. C. Richardson, agent in charge of the Cleveland office, identified the man as John P. Lehigh and said he deserted July, 1943, at Fort Shelby, Miss.

He was arrested at the home of a relative near the cave, Richardson said, and will be turned over to army authorities at Fort Hayes.

The agent said the man offered no resistance and told police he had earned some money by repairing automobiles. He was wearing civilian clothes at the time of arrest.

Boyle's COLUMN

BY HAL BOYLE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 1—Footnotes to Florida:

The simple life really pays off in Florida.

The state and local governments exist chiefly on the revenues from gasoline, cigarette, beer, whiskey, wine and horse and dog race tracks.

There is no state income tax by constitutional provision and no property taxes are assessed against homesteads valued below $5,000.

So you can move to Florida and live practically tax free if you buy a home assessed below $5,000. Don't drink, smoke or drive your own automobile—and don't go to the races.

Of course, many people wouldn't exactly regard that as a full life.

Cigar smokers get a break because Florida is one of the great cigar manufacturing states. There is a state levy on cigars, none on cigars. Many housewives, weary of digging cheroot ashes out of their rugs, wish there were one.

Florida newspapers are leading a campaign to overhaul the state's antiquated school institutions.

Florida's development began with the elimination of the poll tax in 1901," said one Tampa editor.

"Our greatest need now is to bring our schools up to the level of those in the rest of the country."

The Tampa and Miami press in particular are plumping for an additional $18,000,000 expenditure for schools. Florida ranks 27th among the states in ability to pay for educational facilities, but about 45th in what it actually spends as compared with what it could afford.

There is a seven-cent state tax on gasoline. Three cents of it still goes toward refunding of road bonds floated during the boom period more than two decades ago.

In St. Petersburg, winter capital for elderly tourists, one enterprising filling station proprietor has taken a tip from movie houses. He gives six table glasses free to each person who buys five gallons of gasoline.

Old ladies are excited about new "help-yourself" laundries which rent electric machines at an hourly rate. Customers tote in their soiled laundry to the shop, wash it themselves, and tote it home to iron.

They say they can do $3 worth of laundry this way for 50 cents.

One reason the laundries are spreading rapidly through the country is that they enable the women to exchange household gossip as well as wash clothes. One millionaire housewife who patronizes such a laundry—and does the wash herself—explained:

"It's more fun than going to the club."

Newspapermen dream of retiring, few do. One who did was Harry French, widely known Associated Press editor who washed the carbon off his fingers for keeps in 1939 at the age of 57.

He came to Florida, threw away his hat when he crossed the state line and hasn't worn one since. This transplanted New Englander put down new roots that kept him too busy for the usual pastimes of the elderly.

"Never played a game of shuffle-board or gone fishing," he said. He's active in half a dozen civic and charitable enterprises.

"I'm trying to get him to retire again at 68," said Mrs. French.

The "Welcome to Lakeland" sign visible from afar as you approach that inland city has an odd location. It's atop the local police station.

Court Upholds Conviction Of Father of Nazi Agent

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The Supreme court today upheld the treason conviction of Hans Max Haupt, father of one of the German saboteurs who was executed here during the war.

Haupt, a Chicago resident, was sentenced to life imprisonment and fined $10,000. His son, Herbert Haupt, was one of the German agents who landed on the Florida coast from a submarine. Herbert made his way to Chicago where FBI agents later arrested him at his father's house.

Justice Jackson delivered the court's 8-1 opinion. Justice Murphy wrote a dissent.

Sword Demand Falls Off; Firm Makes Fishing Rods

COLUMBUS, April 2.—The demand for swords has fallen off, so the Lilley-Ames Co. which boasts it is America's largest manufacturer of swords, has turned to making steel fishing rods.

The rods are made of square, tapered alloy steel heat-treated by the same damascus method that is the company's trade secret in producing finely tempered swords.

The Columbus firm has been making swords since 1885. Naval swords are the company's biggest item. It also makes swords for military personnel, college cadets and fraternal organizations.

Announces Details of $20,000,000 Price Reductions

Details of the recently announced International Harvester policy of making price reductions to save users of our products approximately $20,000,000 a year have now been worked out.

We have reduced prices on 163 models. These cover 12 basic models of farm tractors, 123 basic models of farm machines, 16 basic models of industrial tractors and engines, and 12 models of motor trucks, as well as certain motor truck attachments. The new lower prices are effective as of March 10, 1947.

These reductions were made not because of any decline in demand, but because we believe nothing is more important to this country than to lower the prices of the goods people buy.

While prices have not been changed on all products, we have made reductions wherever possible, in the amounts possible. Prices of many of our most popular products have been substantially lowered.

Altogether, more than half of the company's customers will be benefited by the reductions, which range from 1% to 23.8% and from $2.50 to $300 per item, based on list prices, F.O.B. Chicago.

Since the people have demanded that the government withdraw from price control in peacetime, the responsibility to keep prices in check is back where it should be—in the hands of business and industry. The business outlook makes it possible for us to move toward the goal of lower prices, and we have felt a duty to act as promptly as possible.

Our ability to maintain these lower prices will depend on the supply and price of materials we buy from others and on uninterrupted production at reasonable wage levels.

The prices listed here carry out our announced policy that "Any price is too high if it can be reduced."

A MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF OF STAFF

The Time of Need Is Now

The Selective Service System, which helped build so magnificent a wartime Army, is being discontinued as an immediate source of men for Army service. Its record is one of distinction, and the Nation's gratitude goes out to all those responsible for the efficient administration of that system, as well as to the millions of selected men who served with such courage and devotion.

From now on we are engaged in a great test, to see whether a system traditionally American in peacetime—the volunteer system—can give us the stable, well-trained Regular Army our current international commitments require.

We have come to a crucial turning point in the development of our military establishment. Building an all-volunteer Regular Army is not a job for the War Department alone; it is a job for the American people—a task of writing the insurance against the chaos of another war.

Here are the basic facts: To carry out our present assignments, we must maintain the Regular Army at a strength of 1,070,000 men. This will require a constant flow into the Army of 30,000 men a month. These men must be of high quality, and every one must be a volunteer. Thus we face a persistent question: Can we do the job?

The task is enormous. Never before have we even considered raising and maintaining a peacetime Regular Army of a million volunteers. There are no sign-posts to go by, no experience on which to base sure forecasts. But such obstacles have never deterred this Nation before.

I have confidence in the young men of America, whose opportunity it is to choose this fine profession. And I believe we can do the job—if we have three things: public understanding, public support and public action.

National observance of Army Day and Army Week is made possible by public support. This has come from the fine young soldiers who have volunteered, from individuals, and from organized groups. Now, as we strive to build a Regular Army to help enforce world peace and security, I ask those who have given so generously of their help to redouble their efforts.

They can do so in the knowledge that the United States Army offers able young Americans not only three things every man wants—good pay, a real career, a chance for advancement—but also the honor and dignity which is associated with national service in time of need.

The time of need is now.

Dwight D. Eisenhower

The Nation Today

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, April 2—Here it is again: An attempt to start a huge drive against cancer.

Next to heart disease, cancer is the greatest cause of death in the United States. Every three minutes someone dies of cancer.

Rep. Dirksen, Illinois Republican, has asked congress to vote $50,000,000 for a cancer fight.

It would be done in the same way this country developed the atomic bomb: By pooling the best medical and scientific brains and efforts.

Last year Rep. Neely, West Virginia Democrat, asked congress to vote $100,000,000 for the fight. But congress didn't. Now Dirksen tries it.

Cancer research in this country is being done by specialists. Private hospitals and laboratories, and by the government's own research center, the National Cancer Research Institute near Washington.

This is what Dirksen's proposal would do, if congress approves it: The money, $50,000,000, would go to President Truman. He could call in the best medical and scientific men in the country.

They could work out a plan for a general fight on cancer so that, in place of the present somewhat scattered efforts, a real drive could start.

More money might be needed later. And the American program could be carried on in cooperation with scientists abroad.

This will give an idea of the terror of cancer: In 1900 cancer was ninth on the list of killing diseases. Now it's second, next to heart disease. Cancer deaths are going up.

In 1944 about 175,000 people died of cancer. In 1945 the number was 177,000. The 1946 figures are not in yet. They'll be higher.

About 273,000 Americans died in action in World War II. In the years 1942 through 1945 about 675,000 people died of cancer.

When he made his proposal to congress, Dirksen said:

"While the death rate for many common diseases has been steadily declining, the death rate for cancer has been increasing.

"The grim and ironic paradox is that medical science has taught us how to save our children from smallpox, from diphtheria, from scarlet fever, from dysentery and diarrhoea, only to have them reach an age at which they may be killed by cancer.

"Medicine has succeeded magnificently in the effort to prolong life, so that a baby at birth is said to have a life expectancy of almost 65 years.

"But though the chances for each baby to reach adulthood are good, the chances for an adult to die of old age have improved hardly at all.

"Cancer is essentially a disease of adults. It is because human beings are living longer that cancer is now assuming an importance which it formerly did not have.

"As more persons reach maturity, their chance of being stricken by cancer increases.

"A woman at 35, a man at 45, enters upon the period of greatest danger.

"What we need is total warfare against cancer—fundamental research in biology, physics, chemistry, medicine, on any question that offers the slightest hope of a connection with the subject of cancer."

Driving at 50 miles an hour, a motorist sees 14 percent less than he does in driving at 45 miles an hour.

Research Project In Legumes Planned

COLUMBUS, April 2—A new research project designed to seek new ways for the improvement of legume seed—clovers and alfalfa—will be set up in Columbus, John P. Cunningham, dean of the Ohio State university college of agriculture, announced today.

The project will be the only one of its kind in a humid climate, Dean Cunningham said.

The laboratory will be established in a building off the university campus, Cunningham said, and the staff at the start will consist of seven scientists and a corps of clerical assistants.

During the past third of a century, Cunningham explained, there has been a steady decline in the yields of legume seeds domestically, while imported seed has not proved as efficient as that developed under home conditions of climate and other factors.

The research scientists will attempt to determine how various conditions such as weather, climate, soil and insects affect seed production.

The busy little bee will play a part in the research work, since legumes depend for their development upon pollination by insects.

One result, the scientists hope, may be the development of a strain of bees which can do two jobs—perform more efficiently in the pollination department, and at the same time produce a better grade of honey for the nation's sweet tooth.

44 Ohio Permits For New Buildings Approved

CLEVELAND, April 2.—Approval of 44 applications for non-housing construction costing $1,077,937 and rejection of 17 bids for building worth $569,501 were made last week in Northern Ohio, Glenn W. Thompson, regional Civilian Production administration director, reported yesterday.

Largest authorization by the CPA was for a $150,000 grade school annex to the Mansfield board of education to meet federal sanitary codes.

Other northern Ohio projects approved included: Moskin Stores, Inc., alterations, East Liverpool, $6,500; Sidney Agrest, food store, Warren, $2,000; Clyde Coal Motor Co., alterations, Warren, $2,500; John Lupu, grocery-dairy store, Warren, $4,000; A. T. Balestrino, compressor sales-service, Hubbard, $9,800; and Charles Shabla, retail store, Niles, $3,250.

Plan Water Reservoir For Mahoning County

YOUNGSTOWN, April 2—G. Taylor Evans, president of the Ohio Water Service Co., today announced plans to build a $1,000,000 reservoir to hold 2,500,000,000 gallons of water.

He said the lake would be built this year in Springfield township between Struthers and North Lima Lake Hamilton, whence it will be on Yellow Creek. Plans call for feeding the lake's water into near-by users.

Ford

The Ford Motor Company has just announced that the Ford three-window, six-cylinder business coupe is back in production at a price twenty dollars below that which prevailed when this model was temporarily discontinued last fall.

This reduction, plus those announced last January 15th, makes the Ford business coupe and the two-door sedan the lowest priced cars in their field.

We Ford Dealers are proud to be part of the organization that pioneered and is continuing such a clear, realistic and progressive policy.

We consider this newest Ford price reduction still further proof that the Ford Motor Company leads in offering the American Public the most value at the lowest possible price.

And we feel certain that it will play a definite part in speeding the return of sound and sensible prices, and a secure future for consumer, seller and producer alike.
